Disposal of Items from Stamperland Church

Following the closure of Stamperland, communion silver, cradle rolls and church records will be transferred to Netherlee Church. The communion table in the side chapel and the baptismal font will be transferred to Netherlee Church.

A few tables, chairs and kitchen objects will go to Netherlee but most items – ranging from desks, wardrobes, filing cabinets, bookcases, tools, glassware, refrigerators and cutlery to carpets, tablecloths, pianos and flip charts – will need to be found new homes. Many of the smaller items are displayed in the session room or on the stage – please help yourself to them. Details of items to be re-homed are listed on the church website: <https://www.nandschurch.org/our-buildings> and half-way down the page click the link “download the spreadsheet”.

We are looking for volunteers to assist with the disposal process on the evenings of 4th, 11th and 18th July to transport (by car) items from Stamperland to Netherlee.

Pew Bibles

Pew Bibles from Stamperland Church, with a commemorative insert, will be available to anyone who would like to take one as a keepsake. Any remaining Bibles will be donated to Blythswood Care for eventual use in Africa.

CH4 hymnbooks may also be taken. Remaining CH4 books will be donated to Oakshaw Trinity Church in Paisley.

Organist Today's Organist is Bill Hutcheson. As a teenager Bill played the Lewis pipe organ during its installation in Stamperland. He is an accomplished organist giving recitals throughout Britain and is a regular organist at Glasgow Art Gallery's lunchtime recitals. Bill is the organist at Clark Memorial Church, Largs.
